The main goal of the winter school is to provide students and academics with hands-on knowledge on leadership abilities and how to improve your leadership skills.

The courses will be given by both leading researchers from academia and experienced practitioners and managers from major industry.

It is your opportunity to:

- Learn about the soft leadership skills
- Know leadership skills that you need to develop innovative solutions
- Immerse yourself in the topics of problem solving and decision making
- Learn about conflict management, time management, communication skills, and professional awareness
- Share skills, methods and insights
- Exchange ideas, experiences and thoughts
- Create value by implementing new ideas
- Be inspired by innovator speakers from a range of leading corporations
